This country does not need change, but a return to the core values that made us a great nation. Michael Williams inspired me the first time I saw him on the internet. He is a person who is a good speaker that can excite the people. I think he would make an excellent voice for Texas in Washington. You might think I am crazy, but I think he is probably the only person that could give President Obama a challenge in 2012. His resume would be just as good as Obama's resume in 2008. I am sure he could get more of the minority vote than your standard white candidate"

- Mike Nirider, Pasadena, TX

"I will support Michael because he will make a great Senator for Texas!!!!!"

"Excited doesn't begin to describe my emotions for this candidacy. Michael Williams is a must to represent Texas."
- Shelly Roszak, Grandview, TX

"I am going to follow your campaign and help where I can. I think it would be outstanding, to have a Black Conservative Republican, represent Texas, in the US Senate. I feel this way, because you are the antithesis of the liberal media's and the Democrats portrayal of the Black Americans..You can show the Black Americans, they do have a viable alternative to the (Democrat) Communist party. They have used the black man for 200 years and really done very little to advance his state of life. It took Republicans to pass the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and Abe Lincoln was not a Democrat, but a Republican."
- Mark Gething, Amarillo, TX

- Daniel Epstein, Washington D.C.

"Michael, Thanks so much for your clear and compelling ideas on energy for Texas and the nation. I know time is such a precious commodity and you spent many hours in Lewisville today. Thank you. William, don't let go of the MOH hat. "

- David Jeffries, Gainesville, TX

"I attended the Energy Summit in Lewisville today and I am convinced that Commissioner Williams needs to be in the US Senate for the future of Texas and the country. It is too bad that he is not already there. I would like to help with his campaign in anyway that I can be helpful. - Jonathan Hansen, Houston, TX

"We need "true" conservatives that will stand Texas tough for our values which in turn will make our country prosperous and protected. As a Texan and an American, I strongly believe we need to drill at home and not be dependent on our enemies for our source of oil (can't believe we have allowed our country to be put in this position). May God bless you in your campaign."

- John Adkins, Hurst, TX

What they're saying...on blogs

"Michael Williams is an amazing candidate and is smart, charismatic and will be a great Senator. He is very firm in his beliefs. I cannot wait to start campaign season once again!"

- LL, Dec 16, 2008, Dallas Morning News

"I think the appointment of Williams would be huge for the GOP and the nation."

- Mike DeVine May 15, 2009, RedState.com

"Mr. Williams is the clear leader for this nomination. I am supporting him.

If the Governor were to elevate Michael to the US Senate, with the Obama storm faltering, Americans will be refreshed at the counter point that he brings to Mr. Obama's radical ideas and identity politics. I hope that Governor Perry has the opportunity to nominate Michael. Michael Williams is so ready and brings so much to the table. Don't forget he was a Senate confirmed Undersecretary of Education in the Ronald Reagan administration."

- Charles V, August 25, 2009, Statesman.com

"I have written this before, so I won't go into it too much, but I am a big, big fan of Michael Williams. In part it is because he is willing to actually stand up and work for things he believes in, even when there is no political payoff, or even if the result is a politically negative one for him personally.

I started a charter school about a decade ago, and at our first fund-raising event, Michael Williams was our keynote speaker. He was not shy to tell us that it was disappointing that the only two black guys in the room were the speaker and the bartender. (We had several black families at the school, actually, but none were in attendance that night.) For this and many other reasons, I am not shy about supporting Michael Williams, and look forward to doing real work to get him elected."

- Warren Norred, February 27, 2009, The Christian Politician Blog

"I have liked Michael since the first time I heard him speak. He speaks like a person and not a politician. He has been good for our state in Austin and I think it is time for him to be good for our state in DC (Lord knows they need someone who speaks and thinks like a person and not a politician)."

- JB, April 15, 2009, The Christian Politician Blog

"We need Michael on the national scene. He is a proven statewide winner, a respected (and real conservative) and he gets people out of their chairs, screaming with excitement. Our Party needs to generate the kind of interest and passion that Michael gets when he speaks."

- Merrie Spaeth, December 12, 2008, draftmichaelwilliams.mojo4.com

"I heard Michael Williams speak when I was about twelve years old and considered myself a staunch democrat. To this day, I have never heard a better public speaker. He won my vote then (not that a twelve year old can vote) and he has my vote now and someday when he runs for president (one can hope...), he will have my vote then."

- Maggie, Dec 16, 2008, Dallas Morning News

"Michael Williams is a rockstar. Newt's help or not, he's the man to beat. I'm not surprised at the Dem hate for Williams already: Obama is hating the thought of this guy in the Senate."

- Sammy, August 25th, 2009, Houston Chronicle

"Awesome. I've been waiting for this Williams to announce his candidacy.

We'll see how the GOP fundraisers/powers-to-be handle this one. They can finally move towards changing the face of the TXGOP by rejecting the notion that we are a party of WASPs and by backing behind Mike Williams... or they can totally drop the ball. I'll hope for the former but expect the latter, because our state party is so utterly oblivious to the need for a bigger tent."

- Antonio, Dec 16, 2008, Dallas Morning News

"Michael Williams would make a GREAT CONSERVATIVE Senator."

-Pizza God, June 2, 2009, Ellis County Observer

"Michael Williams is a self-described "movement" conservative who has the experience and skills necessary to represent the great state of Texas in the U.S Senate."

- Matt, March 12, 2009, The Search For Freedom

"I'm excited about the possibility of Michael Williams. A true conservative. You're right - he doesn't need a hyphen before his name."

- Daniel Miller, March 14, 2009, Frontlinesblog

"Michael Williams has my full support...I have heard of a few other Republicans in the race, but none of them really even belongs in the same conversation. Let's work hard and send Michael to Washington!"

- Jason, December 14, 2008, draftmichaelwilliams.mojo4m.com

"I believe that he has a pretty solid chance to win. He definitely has the credentials.

I have heard him speak before and I was impressed with his innovative ideas."

- Tariq Nelson, December 26, 2008, Tariq Nelson Blog

"Mr. Williams will make an excellent candidate for US Senate."

- Brendan Steinhauser, December 16, 2008, KVUE.com

“Michael wins my vote and cash hands down. Michael Williams is a True Fiscal Conservative and has proved it as Chairman of the Railroad Commission.”

- Bryan James, June 29, 2009, TexasInsider.org

“I have spoken with Michael Williams twice on facebook and he recognized me walking into the room at a Republican event recently. As a previous poster stated, he is conservative (enough) on the right issues, has actually been elected to statewide office...and let's deal with the 800-pound gorilla of an issue—the man is BLACK!! This is the last person that Democrats want elected to the Senate, which makes him the FIRST person Republicans should support!!

Michael Williams is an authority on energy, having served on the Texas RR Commission, and has many great comments on social issues that need to be heard in the political realm. Example: “The finest social program ever invented...IS THE FAMILY!!”

Indeed. MICHAEL Williams for the US Senate.”

- David Smith, June 29, 2009 TexasInsider.org

“I for one am glad that we have an African American politician that will stand against the flow of most African Americans in supporting the Liberal Ideologies and instead Support the Conservative Movement, Hats off to you Mr. Williams”

- Josh, June 25, 2009 Cleburne Times

“Mr. Williams is a tried and true conservative and is all about “Drill, Baby, Drill!!!” He ran some good ads this year for re-election, and won handily. I, as a Texan, will definitely consider him for Senator if he chooses to run.”

- SgtKirk, December 5, 2009, RedState.com

“I'm floored. I've never heard of Michael Williams. All I know about him is this video, but if it's even close to “who he is” Michael Williams is a treasure.

My only concern about Michael Williams is the idea of wasting him in the Senate, but if that's the best job we can find for him right now we should recall KBH.”

- mbecker908, December 5, 2009, RedState.com

“This guy has a real future in the GOP and I'll be volunteering to work for him!”

- AcelnTX, January 1, 2009, RedState.com

“Michael Williams is one of the people that we need to support. He has a very promising and bright future. I have him on twitter and facebook. He'll get a few dollars from me.”

- Wubbies World, January 1, 2009, RedState.com

“I first heard of him on Bill Bennett's Morning in America. An individual from Texas called in talking about Mr. Williams. Michael Steele was co-hosting and knows Williams well. Thinks he would make a great Senator.”

- gibbysr, January 1, 2009, RedState.com

“Williams is a fricken barn burner....that guy is awesome.”

- Brian Hibbert, May 15, 2009, RedState.com

“Would love to see Michael Williams in the Senate...and the sooner, the better.”

- TxCon, May 15, 2009, RedState.com

“Williams spoke before Perry at the Austin Tea Party. It was the first time I had heard him and was very impressed. He seemed genuine and had a great story to share about his life and its parallels with conservative values.”

- burbmom, May 16, 2009, RedState.com

“Perry could score a fair amount of political points appointing Williams, so let's hope it happens. I don't know who else might be running, but you couldn't do much better than him.”

- bk July 29, 2009, RedState.com

"Everyone I know who has heard Michael Williams speak or has had dealings with him, as a couple of people I know have, loves the guy. He is not extremely well-known amongst the masses yet, but I feel he has all the ingredients to connect well with electorate and win the special and be in great position for 2012. He is a conservative with common sense, he speaks directly in language we can all understand, and he does not come off as a slick political type. I will be encouraging everyone I know to email Governor Perry and encourage him to appoint Michael Williams when Senator Hutchison resigns."

- andy_in_texas, July 30, 2009, RedState.com

"I agree that Michael Williams is - without question - the man. He is conservative, thoughtful, energetic, he is a great speaker, and - well - he is black. If he were to get appointed, he would get some great national face time which would help him raise funds."

- wgsampson, July 30, 2009, RedState.com

"We need to thank her [KBH] for her service, but encourage the chance for new, vibrant leadership that will be given by Michael Williams."

"Big Michael Williams fan here, also. We need men like him, more now than ever."

- no2liberals, March 15, 2009, UrbanGrounds.com

"Robbie, Thank you for the links on Mr. Williams. They helped me form a very good opinion of him for the Senate race and beyond. We need more men and women like him!! We need to get him up in the DFW area soon to make sure his message is heard all over Texas."

- Croc Hunter, March 15, 2009, UrbanGrounds.com

"I'm listening to his speech I linked above [Addresses delegates at the 2008 Republican Party of Texas State Convention], and he's both articulate funny and ideologically perfect for conservatives in Texas and would be a better spokesman than 90% of current GOP Senators even ignoring his ethnicity. He's interesting to listen to even as he spits out talking points. Also, he can use words like "swagger" without seeming cheesy and get those rednecks in the crowd to holler and whistle."

- Lunar, June 4, 2009, uselectionatlas.org

"Let me ditto what Moe said. I met with him and his campaign, and I fully and heartily endorse Michael Williams for the US Senate, should Senator Hutchison resign as expected."

- E Pluribus Unum, August 3, 2009, RedState.com

- JustLeaveMeAlone, August 4, 2009, RedState.com

What they're saying...on Facebook

"This senate seat is important, and I think you are the right person to fill that seat and the requirements that come with it. We need to recharge the republican party and that is NOT by moving to the middle but keeping the principles and political views that defines conservatism and on which this country was founded upon. Go Michael Williams!!"

- Matt Martin, May 19, 2009

"I look forward to helping Michael Williams win in Harris County!"

- David Higgins, June 9, 2009

"We need you in D.C. You have the character and integrity to help strengthen the conservative position and actions in the Senate. Help us block legislation that harms families and babies and reduces our population and workforce and, therefore, damages our economy and our culture! Bring in new legislation that favors the states and maintains our constitutional rights. We're behind you!"

- Sonia Margarita Gangotena, June 22, 2009

"I firmly believe in your campaign for the U.S. Senate. It could be the start of bigger and better things to come. You are a breath of fresh air in a political world that is old and stale. Good Luck in 2010 and God Bless You!"

- Mike Nirider, June 22, 2009
